

Brand guidelines

Updated October 2024

Introduction

- 3. Brand essence
- 4. Brand story
- 5. Brand values
- 6. Brand character
- 7. Logo
- 12. Symbol
- 13. Positioning statement
- 14. Grid
- 15. Color
- 18. Typeface
- 19. Supporting graphic
- 20. Photography
- 24. Data visualization
- 26. Everest swag policy
- 29. Light boxes and pull up banners

We want our communications to be clear, consistent, and instantly recognizable. Every single experience someone has with Everest will have an impact on how they feel about us and the work we carry out. That's why we have rules on how we present ourselves.

Brand essence

Our brand essence encapsulates what we stand for. It's not a slogan or a tagline that appears in communications. It's a very short summary statement that captures the substance of our brand.

We are underwriters of risk, growth, progress and opportunity.

Brand story

This is the story of who we are and how we are, where we've come from and where we're going, what's important to us and how we make that happen. It's a depiction of Everest at its best - how we help each other, our customers, communities and the wider world. We have written our story to be inspiring and compelling while also being authentic and ringing true for everyone who encounters us.

Everest answers a basic shared need for security. We enable businesses to survive and thrive, and economies to function and flourish. We are underwriters of risk, growth, progress and opportunity.

A global leader in risk management, we are rooted in a rich heritage, focused on long-term value, disciplined with capital, caring deeply about our impact on communities and the wider world. We're a team built to deliver the exceptional - generating superior results, moving where the world is headed and customers need us most, on a clear path to greater shareholder value.

Customers prefer us because we're at the top of our game. They say we're different because we are so deeply invested in their success, we listen, and we move quickly to find solutions.

We have always been lean and flat, and that's a strategic choice we continue to make. We like our leaders to lead, provide direction and structure, trusting us to do our jobs and stay close to our customers.

Our business is helping businesses to succeed - in the best way possible. That's why we invest so much in talent - having the right people, with the right attitude, in the right places. People from every background, delivering with urgency, knowing they're making a difference.

We provide a global service that's local and relevant - underwriting risk in major markets around the world. Working together, we are building on the balanced strength of our offer, delivering profitable growth, empowering more businesses and people.

Enterprising. Empowering. Never-resting.
We underwrite opportunity.™ We are Everest.

Brand values

Our values are the ideals we aspire to so that we can live up to the promise of our brand and be able to underwrite opportunity in its many forms.

Talent

We win by having the right people with the right skills in the right roles

Thoughtfulness

We are intelligent, creative, and agile in how we approach opportunity and risk

Disciplined execution

We deliver on our promise with urgency and invest in people, process, and technology to drive continuous improvement

Humility

We care for and respect our colleagues, customers, and communities

Leadership

Each one of us leads by example, every day

Collaboration

We are better by being together

Inclusion

We value each individual, becoming stronger through our diversity

Brand character

It's helpful when designing communications to be able to think of the brand in terms of human characteristics. This is our brand character – a consistent set of traits that resonate with our audiences and give a feel for the brand and how it behaves.

Expert

- We enable businesses to survive and thrive, and economies to function and flourish
- Focused on long-term value
- Disciplined with capital
- Generating superior results
- At the top of our game
- Helping businesses to succeed
- A global service that's local and relevant
- Building on the balanced strength of our offering

Courageous

- A global leader in risk management
- We're a team built to deliver the exceptional
- We're moving where the world is headed and customers need us most
- We have always been lean and flat
- We like our leaders to lead and trust us to do our jobs
- We're making a difference
- Enterprising. Never-resting
- Empowering more businesses and people

Caring

- We care deeply about our impact on communities and the wider world
- We're different because we are so deeply invested in our customers' success
- We listen and we move quickly to find solutions
- We stay close to our customers
- We deliver with urgency
- We are working together
- Empowering

Logo

As the cornerstone of our brand, the Everest logo represents everything about us: our expertise, our values, and our people. It distinguishes us from our competitors. It is important that our logo always be applied with care and respect in every application.

Our logo is made up of our symbol and our name – Everest. The way it is presented has been carefully crafted to create a unique and balanced logo. No other formats are allowed.

Constructing the logo

Our logo is made up of a symbol and wordmark, it is important that the two parts are together wherever possible.

When applying the logo, please be mindful that the spacing between the wordmark and the symbol cannot be altered or adjusted in any way.

The width of the symbol is $\frac{1}{4}$ of the full logo. The width of wordmark plus gap is equal to $\frac{3}{4}$ of the full logo.

The gap between symbol and wordmark equals $\frac{1}{6}$ the height of the symbol or the drop from the baseline of the wordmark to the bottom of the symbol.

$\frac{1}{6}$ the height of the symbol is also the point at which the baseline of the wordmark aligns with the symbol.

Logo colorway

There are three colorways for the Everest logo, designed to ensure that the logo can stand out and be legible on a range of backgrounds:

The preferred logo usage is on light backgrounds, with our logo and positioning statement in full color (1).

On darker tones, our logo should be reversed out White (2).

When on Black or Everest Dark Blue, our symbol remains in full color (3).

Sizing

When using our logo, the first consideration is clarity. We recommend sizing it at least 30mm, 1.2 inch or 160 pixels wide.

①

②

③

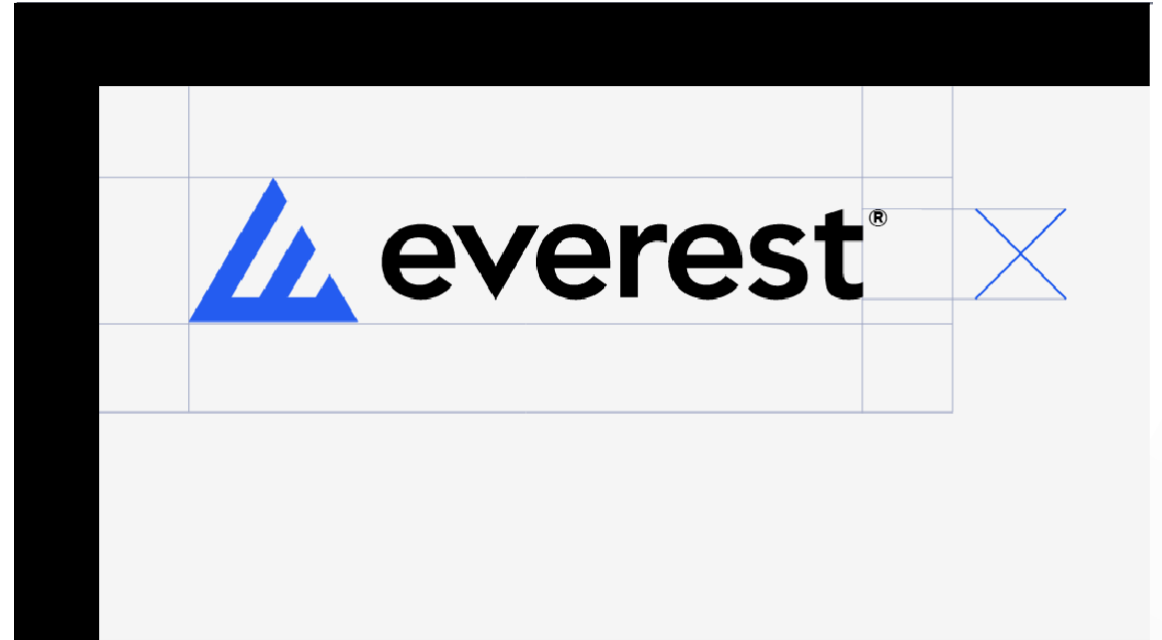

Positioning and clear space

We have defined a clear space around our logo to protect it. This is calculated using the cap height of the wordmark, see illustration below. This is the minimum amount of clear space, but the more the better.

The recommended position for our logo is top left. Use the clear space zone as a guide to the minimum space allowed from the edge when positioned.

Additional margins are needed to create a further safe area to protect the logo and images or text on printed materials. Office printers, newsprint or poster cases require a greater margin than professional printers. See section on our grid for further guidance.

Best practice

Do NOT use logos that blend into the background colors.

Do NOT use logos that blend into the photography.

Do NOT use the logo in the middle of a sentence.

Do NOT use the wordmark without the symbol.

Do NOT angle or rotate the logo.

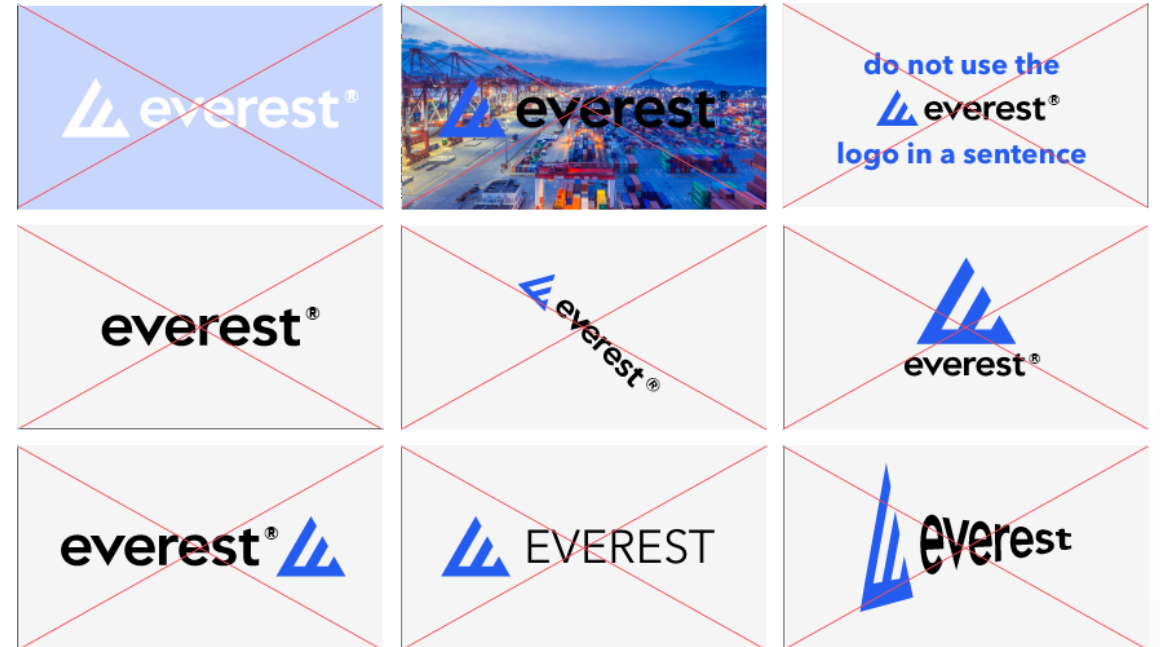

Do NOT distort or alter the logo.

Do NOT replace type or letters with the logo.

Do NOT outline or create a keyline around the logo.

Please refer to this document for the latest brand guidelines and appropriate Trademark use.

For any third-party use of our logo, please contact Everest Marketing and Communications (marketingandcommunications@everestglobal.com) and legal to ensure that the appropriate approval process is followed.

Symbol

For digital application where space is limited, such as social media, or as a favicon in internet browsers, our symbol can be shown separately.

Best practice

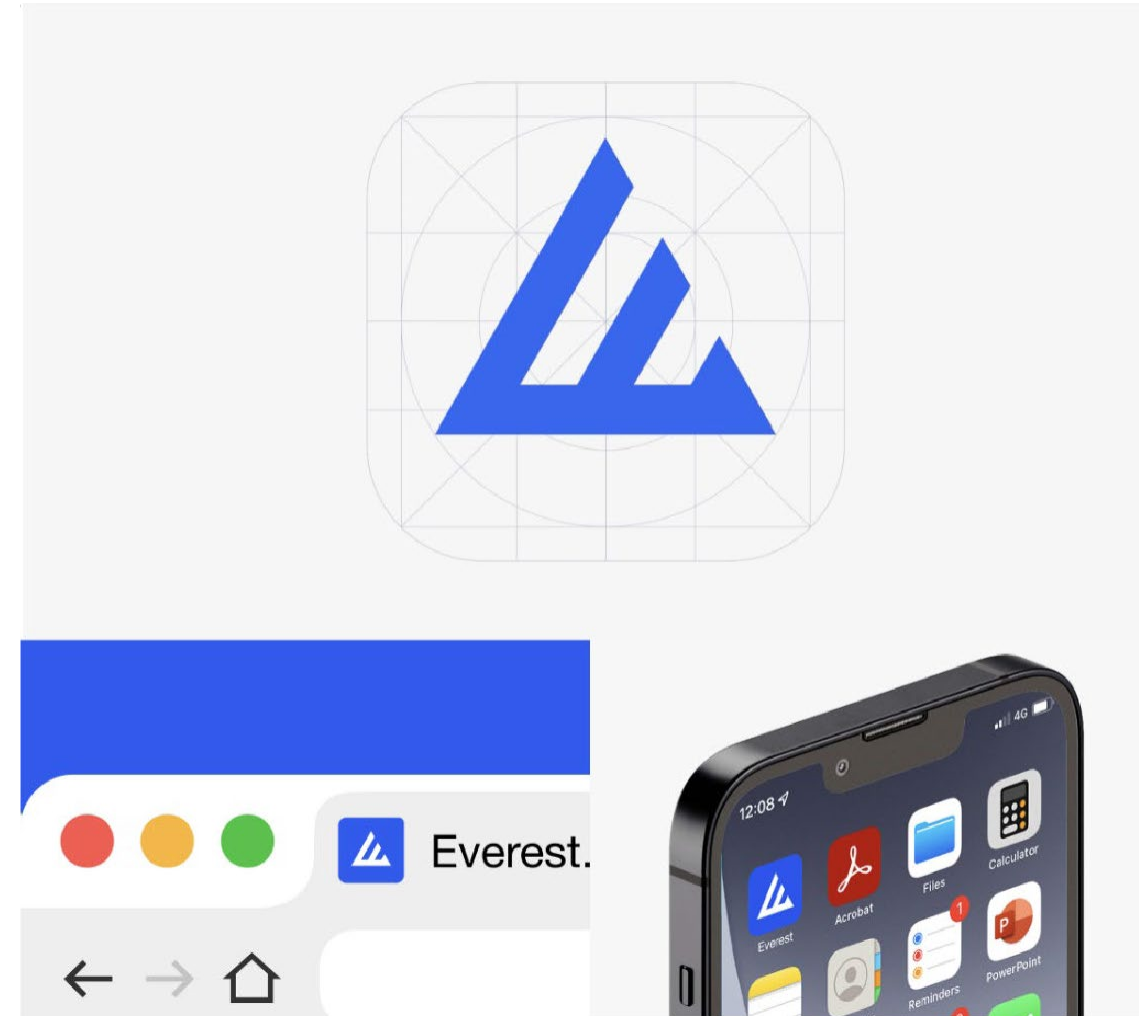

Do NOT use as a stand-alone symbol on branded materials and giveaways.

Do NOT use as a shorthand within copy.

Do NOT recolor the Everest symbol.

Do NOT angle the Everest symbol.

Do NOT modify shape or add elements.

Positioning statement

We created a shorthand for our story - “We underwrite opportunity.™” - a sense of the promise we make and what people can expect from us. It’s a powerful component of our identity and should be used strategically to further promote our brand identity on marketing materials.

The positioning statement is not locked to our logo. This allows for flexible placement on different media. Having two separate elements ensures that the logo has enough clear space to stand out whilst giving the positioning statement more impact.

Our positioning statement either aligns to the right of the logo horizontally, or sits below, left aligned. When left aligned, the height of the positioning statement should match the height of the logotype, as shown. It may appear at any distance from the logo, but never within the clear space.

Artwork is available.

NOTE: The words “We underwrite opportunity.™” can also be written in plain text for headlines and supporting copy, as shown in the bottom right example.

Best practice

Do NOT use our positioning statement on communications without the Everest logo.

Do NOT place our positioning statement above or to the left of our logo.

Do NOT place the positioning statement with disclaimers, it should be clearly promoted.

NOTE: Our position statement should be used with the trademark (™) symbol, when possible, while our trademark applications are pending.

Once we receive registration approval in all/majority of jurisdictions, the statement should always be used with the registered trademark symbol. Please continue to check Compass to check status of Registration. Due to recent updates in the trademarking process, the position statement is not applicable for use within the Brazil market.

Grid

A grid is the framework for all the visual elements and typography, ensuring order and consistency to everything we design. We use 9 columns for portrait and 18 columns for landscape.

On printed materials an additional allowance of space outside of the grid is needed to create a safe area which protects the logo and images or text on printed materials. This space is called the margin and is determined by media type and content. Office printers, newsprint or poster cases require a greater tolerance for cropping than professional printers. Seek guidance from vendors when setting measurements.

Screens do not require an outside margin but remember the clear space rule when positioning our logo.

Illustrated below are examples for standard formats such as US Letter (inches) or A4 (mm) or Widescreen 16:9 (pixels).

Colors

The most common way our brand will be seen by most people is on screen. Our signature color - Everest Blue - has been designed to stand out on digital channels (RGB).

Since print does not have the same luminous quality as screen, inevitably, the Everest Blue will look darker on printed materials. We have selected CMYK values that imitate digital RGB colors as closely as possible to achieve consistency across ink-on-paper applications.

Print guidance

When printing on paper, please refer to the CMYK values provided on page 16. We recommend printing on coated paper as it has a glossy sheen that makes colors appear brighter and more vibrant. When selecting an uncoated paper, specify a bright white, heavier weight, and smooth finish. This ensures that the color and surface texture of the paper doesn't affect the way the ink behaves.

For physical items and built environments the onus will be on vendors to provide appropriate color matches of paints, vinyl, foil, or fabric and other materials for approval before they go into production. Please reference the approved color swatches to match.

A complimentary set of darker blues and grays make up our primary color palette.

A further secondary color palette of accent colors is limited to highlighting information in charts and graphs.

Please refer to the color specifications on the following page for the color breakdown.

An effort is underway to preload the colors in Microsoft suite.

Primary color palette

Everest Blue

- For screens use #235CF4 or
R: 35 G: 92 B: 244
- For print use
C: 100% M: 55% Y: 0% K: 0%

Dark Blue

- For screens use #061C49 or
R: 6 G: 28 B: 73
- For print use
C: 100% M: 90% Y: 0% K: 67%

Mid Blue

- For screens use #0A3699 or
R: 10 G: 54 B: 157
- For print use
C: 100% M: 80% Y: 0% K: 20%

Mid Gray

- For screens use #A4ABC8 or
R: 168 G: 175 B: 204
- For print use
C: 34% M: 26% Y: 7% K: 0%

Light Gray

- For screens use #F5F5F5 or
R: 245 G: 245 B: 245
- For print use
C: 0% M: 0% Y: 0% K: 10%

Secondary color palette

Dark Purple

- For screens use #6929C4 or
R: 105 G: 41 B: 196
- For print use
C: 80% M: 83% Y: 0% K: 0%

Light Purple

- For screens use #A56EFF or
R: 165 G: 110 B: 255
- For print use
C: 58% M: 60% Y: 0% K: 0%

Dark Red

- For screens use #9F1853 or
R: 159 G: 24 B: 83
- For print use
C: 27% M: 99% Y: 35% K: 22%

Light Red

- For screens use #FA4D56 or
R: 250 G: 77 B: 86
- For print use
C: 0% M: 81% Y: 55% K: 0%

Dark Teal

- For screens use #075D5D or
R: 0 G: 93 B: 93
- For print use
C: 88% M: 37% Y: 53% K: 34%

Light Teal

- For screens use #119D9A or
R: 0 G: 157 B: 154
- For print use
C: 79% M: 14% Y: 43% K: 1%

Using color

Color contrast impacts the readability of content on screens and in print. It is especially important for readers who are low vision or colorblind. Good color contrast means all readers can see our content no matter the device they're using or the lighting of their surroundings.

The illustration below shows which color combinations are compliant with level AA of the ADA guidelines.

Red crosses show which combinations are not accepted and the larger font size indicates which colors need to use large text size, typically 18pt/24px or larger.

Best practice

Do NOT use RGB values in print or CMYK for screens.

Do NOT use secondary colors in headlines.

Do NOT use secondary colors as a background color.

Do NOT apply digital colors that are not ADA compliant.

Typeface

Avenir Next LT Pro is our primary typeface for all applications. It comes loaded with Microsoft™ applications. It works well in both print and digital, allowing us to unify the look-and-feel of our brand across our communications- from emails to billboards. To create unity and simplify day-to-day use, we recommend using only two weights, regular and bold.

All marketing templates have the Theme Fonts loaded. However, Avenir Next LT Pro Bold is not listed as a font on PCs. Please ensure you use the Bold format button 'B' when using bold font.

Avenir Next LT Pro Regular

Avenir Next LT Pro Bold

Supporting graphic

A graphic helps characterize communication so that audiences can quickly and consistently recognize a brand. We have a 60-degree angle graphic. It emphasizes progress (angle up).

The graphic is flexible enough to work across all formats and in all media but is most effectively used on materials with free space (i.e. PowerPoint covers and divider slides, banners). As a shape it can either hold photography or color. To create a subtle background, use tints or a gradient. Colors should be taken from our primary palette only.

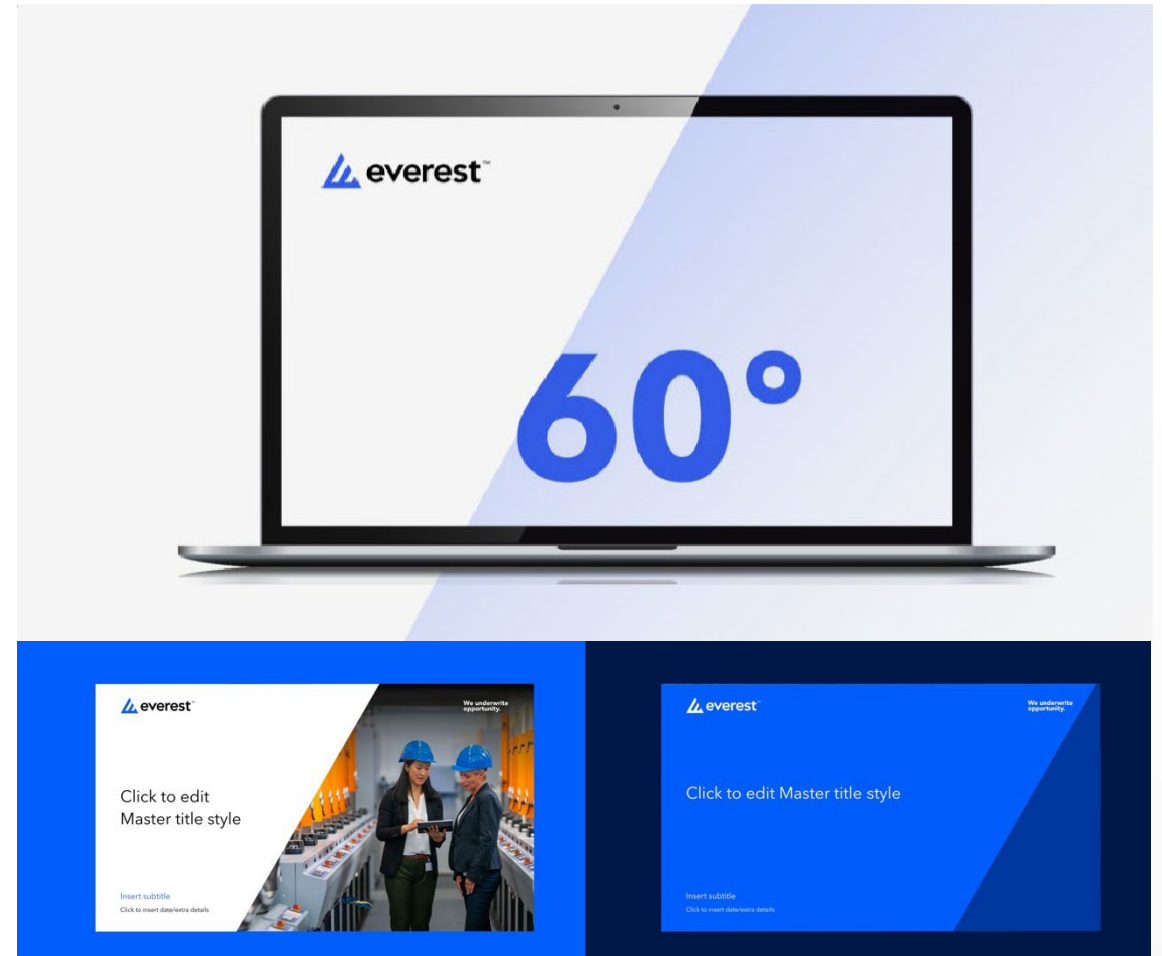

Best practice

Do NOT use any other angles or shapes.

Do NOT angle down, we want to emphasize progress.

Do NOT use secondary colors.

Please reach out to Everest Marketing and Communications (marketingandcommunications@everestglobal.com) for supporting graphics.

Photography

We are underwriters of risk, of growth, of progress and opportunity.

Photography sets the scene for the conversations we want to have and demonstrates our understanding of our clients' world. An audience will measure the quality of our communication by the consideration given to choosing an image.

Subjects should be realistic. Use inspiring images which show our impact at a global scale.

The diversity we see in the world around us should be reflected in the images we show to the world.

Avoid abstraction or images that represent a concept. This includes images of Mount Everest; it inspired our name, but we prefer to demonstrate the work we do.

NOTE: For specific images needed, please contact Everest Marketing and Communications.

Right people

Our business is helping businesses to succeed – in the best way possible. That’s why we invest so much in talent – having the right people, with the right attitude, in the right places. People from every background, delivering with urgency, knowing they’re making a difference. We provide a global service that’s local and relevant – underwriting risk in major markets around the world.

Always ensure the highest level of quality and consistency across all portrait images. The style is formal but approachable, showing our humility and empathy.

A photography studio will use a neutral background and professional lighting so that the focus is on the subject. Keep the lighting natural and avoid artificial effects, color washes or graphic overlays.

In terms of framing, the subject’s shoulders and top half of the body should be visible. Some people are self-conscious of certain features. Portrait photographers are used to hearing this, so don’t feel embarrassed to tell them that, for example, one of your eyes is bigger than the other. In this case, the photographer could angle you to one side so that the perspective makes both eyes look the same size.

Body language is the key to looking confident. Don’t put your hands in your pockets or cross your arms, as this will make you seem unapproachable. A forced smile may seem disingenuous, a ‘real’ smile is shown through a person’s eyes.

Right attitude

Working together, we are building on the balanced strength of our offer, delivering profitable growth, empowering more businesses and people.

To show collaboration and dynamism, capture images of people together. Images should feel authentic and un-posed.

Avoid compositions which have no focal point or center of interest.

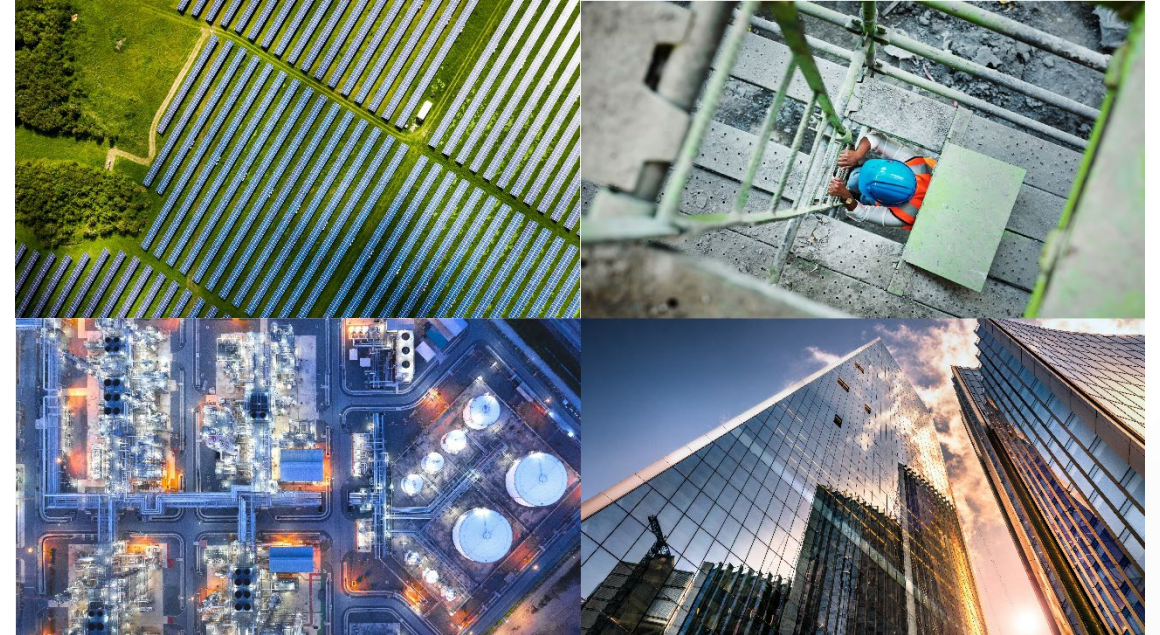

Right places

Everest answers a basic shared need for security. We enable businesses to survive and thrive, and economies to function and flourish. We are underwriters of risk, of growth, of progress and opportunity.

We want to communicate how integral our work is to societies and economies around the world.

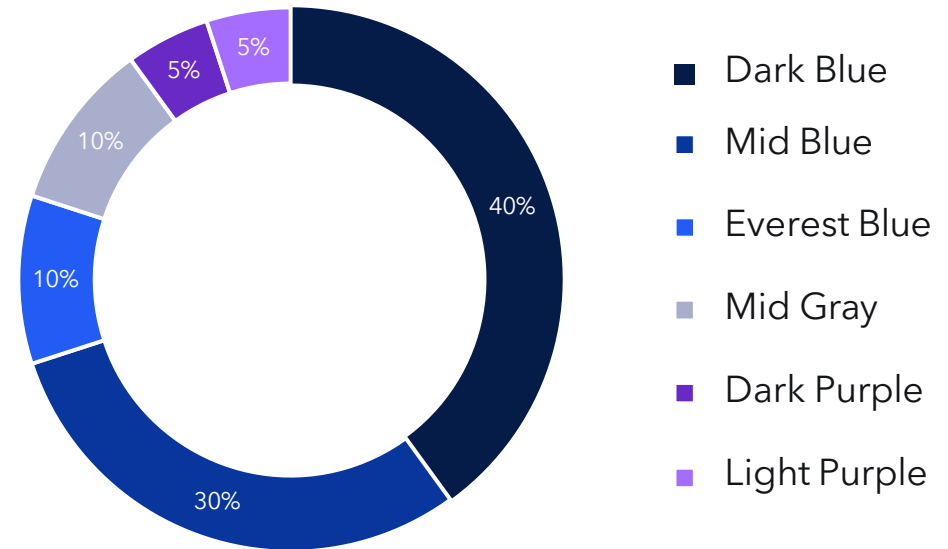

Try to show a wide range of sectors and industries. Choose interesting places from unusual angles and vantage points.

Unless marketing material is specific to a region, images should represent us as a global company and be viewed as applicable to any country.

Data visualization

We should carefully consider how to present the information and how it works with the text around it, so the meaning is very clear to the reader. Keep our graphs and tables as simple as possible. Only use color to aid clarity - never to decorate. The minimum point size for titles and annotations should be 8pt.

Use of legal disclaimers

Please work with Marketing and Communications and a legal representative for the latest disclaimers. These should be included in all marketing, communications and investor materials such as:

- Marketing and product sheets
- Brochures
- Annual reports
- Corporate materials
- Earnings/Investor Relations presentations
- Press releases
- Key sales and corporate presentations

Third-party logo use:

For any third-party use of our logo, please contact Everest Marketing and Communications (marketingandcommunications@everestglobal.com) and legal to ensure that the appropriate approval process is followed.

Everest SWAG policy

Updated 8/17/23

Contact Corporate Services: corporateservices@everestglobal.com

- Sponsorship giveaways, All employee swag, Conferences, etc.

Contact Marketing: krupali.desai@everestglobal.com,
erin.sutter@everestglobal.com

- Broker events, hosted events and summits, executive swag requests, Business meeting gifts

International SWAG Orders:

- To be managed through local offices for optimal shipping rates.
- Please send digital mockup of your desired items to krupali.desai@everestglobal.com and erin.sutter@everestglobal.com for branding approval and guideline adherence.

CRG and branding initiative SWAG orders:

- Contact madison.rocco@everestglobal.com

Corporate Services process:

1. Requestor to email Corporate Services:
 - a. Item (include color preference)
 - b. Quantity
 - c. Budget
 - d. Cost Center
 - e. In-hands date
 - f. Shipping location
2. Corporate Services to procure 3 options to share with requestor to make a selection
3. Corporate Services to share digital mockup with Marketing (Krupali Desai and Madison Rocco) for branding approval and guideline adherence.
4. Order a sample (preferably with customization) and ship to Madison Rocco (461 5th Ave, Fifth Floor, New York, NY 10017)
 - a. Please note: One time approval process for new swag item or vendor.
5. Review order with requestor and place order.

Please note: New orders take 6-8 weeks to process.

Swag design guidelines

Everest logo:

- Use Everest logo with the registration mark (®)
- Colorways:
 - Blue/Black Logo can go on light colored backgrounds (white, light grey, light blue).
 - Blue/White Logo can go on black backgrounds only.
 - White Logo can go on navy, dark shades of grey, black and non-Everest brand colors (printed/busy backgrounds).
- Positioning:
 - Logo must be aligned left.
 - Logo must remain horizontal.
 - Logo cannot be broken up (do not separate the symbol from the words).
 - Mountain symbol cannot be used alone.
 - "Everest" cannot be used alone.
- Approved thread colors for Everest Blue:
 - Isacord #3900
 - Madeira #1177 (Rayon)
 - Madeira #1829 (Polyneon)
- Optimal logo placement: left shoulder or left chest

Position statement:

- Must have the trademark (™) or registration mark (®) once registered
- Position statement encouraged on apparel for colleague swag use only.
- Must use .eps or .jpeg file (do not type out)
- Color: black or white
- Must follow clear space guidelines (see brand guide book)

Team customization:

- To align with our OneEverest approach and to support establishing global brand recognition, no team names can be used in conjunction with the Everest corporate logo.
- Everest corporate logo is not to be modified in any way by ERG's or BRG's.

Swag tiers and examples

	Price range	Examples
Tier 1	$1- $50	Pens, Cece tumblers, mugs, notepads, office supplies, hand sanitizer, chapstick, water bottles, golf umbrella, etc.
Tier 2	$50 - $75	Moleskin notebook, apparel, portable chargers, hats, travel gear.
Tier 3	>$75	Yeti products, Peter Millar, Wireless Speakers, Cooler bags, Curated apparel and gifts.

Light boxes and pull-up banner information

Introduction:

To support our brand relaunch, we'd like to uplevel our branding for conferences and events. In addition, to support the brand launch celebration, the team aligned on light box treatments. Below are recommended options for approval.

For approval:

Please contact marketingandcommunications@everestglobal.com with specific specs for design files tailored to your requirements. All final designs and proofs must be approved by Everest Marketing and Communications.

New brand logo for light boxes – branding

Light box treatment - Logo pillars and cubes

Item 1: Taller light box pillars

- Top of the light box - Blank, white

Front and back panels - 60-degree logo treatment, with a strong pop of our color

Specs: Width 24 inches x length 40 inches

New brand logo for light boxes – branding (continued)

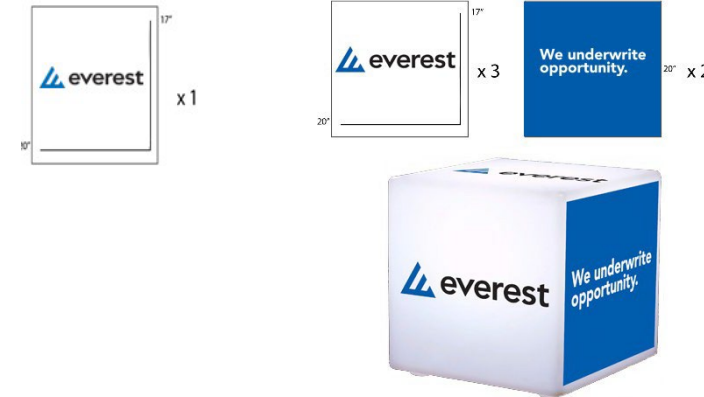

Left and right panels - Everest blue background with white logo for a more subtle contrast

Specs: Width 24 inches x length 40 inches

Item 2: Logo cubes

Specs: Width 20 inches x length 17 inches

- Logo on top
- Tagline in white on Everest blue on two opposite panels
- Everest Logo with the spacing guidelines and centered on two opposite panels

Please contact Everest Marketing and Communications marketingandcommunications@everestglobal.com for additional questions, templates and best practices for the brand guidelines.